

Shooting Stars Nursery News

Our Focus Books

Pre-school Room focused on It's a Cold Dark Night. This book focuses on a hedgehog trying to find a place to sleep in the cold autumn nights. The kids have been using microphones to tell the story to their classmates increasing their confidence and communication skills. The toddler room focused on Where's Spot? This has encouraged the toddlers to begin using positional language to describe where Spot, the dog, is. The baby room have been engaging in picture books. This is encouraging babies to get involved in basic listing and sitting skills.

Dates for the Diary:

17th November Children In-Need

If possible, could you send your children in clothes with polka dots. A minimum of a £1 donation to go towards the charity.

A Busy Day at the Surgery

It was an incredibly busy month at the pre-school room surgery. The kids were role playing as doctors and patients using their incredible imaginations to encourage lots of communication between them.

Your Room Leaders:

Pre-School – Kathrine Lee Mellor

Toddler Room – Fadia Khan

Baby Room – Jessica Toft

The Toddlers Pet Spider!

The toddlers found a creepy crawler this month in the garden and decided to take care of it. They carefully placed it into a yellow hat and gathered around to look at their new catch. They began to sing "Incy Wincy Spider" and showed their key workers how good their sitting and concentration skills are getting. They also gained great understanding of the world and their key workers were impressed by their independence skills.

Key Messages for this Month!!

Parents and carers, please remember to make sure your snack money and dinner money is up to date. You can check this with your child's key worker. As the weather is changing, please ensure to send your children in appropriate clothing. Also please ensure, no personal toys or snacks are brought into the setting. If there are any changes in phone numbers, please ensure the office knows and all your contact details are up to date. Also, ensure to write your child's name on their belongings.
